Slaughter Pig Marketing Summary

(Ref Weekly Tribune)

This week
The double Bank holiday and associated disruption did little to improve the market. Indeed, pricing momentum has faltered, with many processors complaining of poor demand. This is hard to believe when most of the country has been in party mood, with barbecues featuring heavily in celebrations. One factor could be the relatively weak European market, and cheap imports undercutting our sales. This just makes our pricing negotiations more difficult. It is also worrying given the reports that ASF continues to spread with the latest outbreak on a German outdoor pig unit close to the French border. Lax or non-existent border checks leave our industry dangerously exposed. The European malaise was reflected in our sow price which fell 8p, apparently due to full continental cold stores. This scenario make take some time to resolve.

Weaner Marketing Summary

w/c 29/05/22
The market remained limited to regular movements, with little to no interest outside these arrangements. Increasing feed costs are dampening any desire and fatteners are more likely to leave sheds empty at the moment. There was insufficient data for the AHDB formulate any prices.
