Slaughter Pig Marketing Summary

(Ref Weekly Tribune)

This week 23/01/23
Fluctuations in weather seem to be affecting pig growth rates but really this week is surely just normal winter weather. It was welcoming to see the positive rise within the SPP this week, following the previous weeks reduction. We would now hope this trend is to stay positive and processors Q prices increasing, given the shortages of pigs within the market. Even if we are in the January blues, where we are told sales of meat were low, processors still wanted their pig numbers, purely because they do not want less supply come March onwards, when historically demand picks up, some may say they are laying product now ahead of this. We have also been in negotiations with some processors reference their specifications, and what we can do to adjust these to incentivise producers to help by sending more animals. European prices and sow prices stood on which shows there is not a surplus of pigs in Europe either. Prices in sterling were compromised by a weaker euro.

Weaner Marketing Summary

w/c 23/01/23
Weaner and store supply remains particularly tight but there is an improving demand from fatteners brave enough to stick their heads above the parapet.
