As the nice weather continues, we are seeing demand for pigs increasing. The phone is ringing off the hook from all the processors wanting more pigs.

This is highlighted with the AHDB report quoting the figures from the June census, with the sharp decline in our sow herd, so far this year (Jan-April 2023) 3.3 million head of clean pigs have been slaughtered, which is 10% down on 2022's numbers.

The SPP showed another increase at 0.74 now standing at 222.09 which is the 24th week of increases.

The cull sow price stood on this week with cull animals netting a healthy return, which is a stark contrast to this time last year when they were 35.5p/kg
