Prices continue to come under pressure again this week as the SPP falls another 0.48p, a number of factory's price contributions continue a similar downward trend too! Average carcass weights creep up a fraction now at 92.08kgs, the highest level since w/e 30th April 2022. This higher pig weight is helped by the recent weather conditions which remain very favourable for growing pigs! Although, as we head into the last 6 trading weeks before the short festive weeks are upon us, pulling pig numbers forward is now well underway. You would expect the finished weights could creep back a fraction before the year end, provided numbers continue being cleared up by processors as they have been doing recently, over the coming few weeks! The sow market has seen the largest fall this week, back on average 3p/kg, although the German slaughter pig market stood on this week following the unwelcome 8Cents drop the previous week. However, the German sow market fell another 5 Cents this week! Other news - another sizable processor has this last week announced investing into pig ownership through a joint venture with a large independent!

Thought provoking last week for farmers to think hard about their actions to help protect farm businesses for the next generation, to allow them to keep producing the nation's food.
